

DECISION KILLS LIQUOR MEASURE

Allison Liquor Law Knocked Out by Decision in the Appeals Court.

Austin, Texas, Dec. 16.—The court of criminal appeals today practically knocked out the Allison liquor law, and, as Judge Prendergast says in his dissenting opinion, wiped it off the statute books. A short time ago the court in the Elmer Peede case, held that there was no violation of the law for a person to carry or for a transportation company to transport interstate shipments of intoxicating liquor into dry territory when such liquor is not to be used in violation of any law.

Today the court held that it is not a violation of the law to carry or transport interstate shipments of liquor into prohibited territory, that a person has the right to delegate to an agent to carry intoxicants into dry territory when it is to be used for no unlawful purpose.

This means that a person living in dry territory may have liquor shipped to him from any point inside or outside of the state.

There were two cases decided today bearing on this question. One was ex-parte Lewis Hopkins, from Tarrant county, who was discharged. The other opinion is written by Judge Harper, in the case of Charles Loumire from Hamilton county, which was reversed and remanded. Judge Prendergast dissented in both cases, holding the act constitutional and declaring that the Allison law has been practically knocked out by the opinion of a majority of the court.

HIP AUTO BACK FIRES.
A Hummobile belonging to L. J. Trotti, which was being cranked in front of a garage on Myrtle avenue, between Campbell and Kansas, caught fire from back fire and it was necessary to call the central fire company to extinguish the blaze. The damage to the car was slight.

JACK FOLLANSBEE DIES AT WALDORF

President of Juarez Jockey Club and Partner of W. R. Hearst in Mexico.

Jack Follansbee, president of the Juarez Jockey club and a mining partner of William Randolph Hearst, died Tuesday night at 9 o'clock in New York. Thirty-four years ago Jack Follansbee came to El Paso for the first time on his way to Mexico. He was a young civil engineer at the time and was seeking a location. He was afterward associated with senator Hearst in the mining properties in northern Mexico and, following the death of the elder Hearst, was a partner with William Randolph Hearst in his Mexican properties.

Was Coming to El Paso.
Follansbee always took a keen interest in the Juarez races and was one of the board of governors when the track was first opened. He succeeded Don Alberto Terrazas as president of the club, four years ago, and held this position at the time of his death. He had recently returned from Europe and was expected to come to El Paso to attend the races this winter. He was 54 years old and lived at the Waldorf in New York.

No details have been received by Col. Matt Winn, manager of the Juarez track, who has telegraphed for information about the funeral. It is probable that it will be held Friday, when the races will be declared off at the Juarez track out of respect for the president of the club.

BARS SALE OF LIQUOR BY CLUB

Court of Appeals Decision Is a Blow to Country and Social Clubs.

Austin, Texas, Dec. 16.—The social clubs of Texas were given a severe blow today which may threaten their very existence, when the third court of civil appeals affirmed in part and reversed in part the decision of the court of the state of Texas against the Country club of Austin from Travis county. The court reversed and annulled that part of the lower court's decision which permitted the selling of intoxicating liquors to members. The appellate court today held that the club cannot sell liquors at any time; that such action is in violation of article 611 of the penal code, which prohibits selling liquors without a license. As no licenses are issued to corporations, it means that the Country club or any other such club cannot dispense liquor to its members.

The court affirmed that part of the lower court's opinion which enjoined the club from selling liquor on election days. Under today's ruling, the Country club is enjoined and restrained from selling liquor to its members at any time.

usually in taxes, but they will be glad to pay the price for a free garbage collection service in absolutely necessary if we are to have a clean city. The mayor asks for the cooperation of the people in putting the free garbage collection into service and says that "it is requested and required that all residents secure two galvanized iron cans or cans of similar quality and strength. In one of these only ashes and sweepings are to be placed. In the other, nothing but garbage. These are to be left at the rear of the house and will be collected regularly by the wagons of the scavenger department, employed for this purpose."

"In addition, a great saving in the handling of refuse can be obtained if those having large quantities of old newspapers or other papers or magazines, will see that they are tied in bundles and placed alongside the cans containing the refuse," the mayor further says.

In opening his letter relative to the garbage collection, the mayor says: "At this season of the year, when it is customary for the people of this country to make presents to their friends, the city of El Paso desires to give a gift that will benefit all."

HOLDUP REPORTED TO POLICE.
The police received a report Wednesday morning of the holdup of John McCarthy, whose residence was given as 611 Montana, by two unknown white men, who afterwards made their escape. The holdup is said to have occurred about 2 a. m. on Montana street, near Ochoa.
